Maëlcolm is a skilled BDSM trainer, a spy, and unfortunately, a prince. Cameron is Maël's older brother, titular heir to their father's kingdom and in love with his enby bodyguard, Li. Kat is a slave. A genetically modified being created for one purpose, and one alone.

To please her masters in bed. Los is a gifted Companion, the only thing that makes him happier than practicing his calling is loving Maël, the one man Los can't have an official relationship with. If Maël doesn't give up his calling and do as the Ard Righ demands, his family loses everything. If Cam doesn't do what he needs to do to become worthy of the throne by the Ard Righ's stringent standards, their family may be executed. If Kat, autistic, touch-averse, and afraid, chooses to fight her fate, she'll die. When an artificial intelligence named 'the high king' is at the helm, the cost to human hearts may be impossible to bear. There is an enby/NB/non-binary character in this who uses xie/xyr/xem pronouns.
