Amelia Telford is a brilliant senior high school student with perfect grades and a passion for learning, but her days are lonely due to her parents' busy lifestyles. When she receives word that she's been accepted to the college of her dreams, they were too caught up in their work to hear her news. That night, her life took a disastrous turn when she fell through a mysterious hole that appeared in the basement of her home. When she came to, she realized that she'd been transported into a parallel universe of magic, monsters and hellish nightmares. With the reluctant help of a handsome demon named Connor, she must travel across the country with an enchanted briefcase that will supposedly take her back home to where things made sense. But, does she even want to?
